VOL X. PORTLAND, OREGON, THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 15, 1870. NO. 268

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

FELLOW CITIZENS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

CONGRATULATORY—THE UNION RESTORED

A year of peace and general prosperity to this nation has passed since the last assembling of Congress We have, through a kind Providence been blessed with abundant crops, and have been spared from complications and war with foreign nations. In our midst comparative harmony has been restored It is to be regretted, however, that a free exercise of the elective franchise has by violence and intimidation been denied to citizens in exceptional cases and in several of the States lately in rebellion, and the verdict of the people has thereby been reversed The States of Virginia Mississippi and Texas have been restored to representation in our national councils Georgia, the only State now without representation may confidently be expected to take her place there also, at the beginning of the new year and then let us hope will be completed the work of reconstruction with an acquiescence on the part of the whole people in the national obligation to pay the public debt, created as the price of our Union, the pensions to our disabled soldiers and sailors and their widows and orphans and in the changes to the Constitution, which have been made necessary by the great rebellion

There is no reason why we should not advance in material prosperity and happiness as no other nation did after so protracted and devastating a war

PROTECTION TO FOREIGNERS IN FRANCE

Soon after the exciting war broke out in Europe the protection of the United States Minister in Paris was invoked in favor of the North Germans domiciled in French territory, and instructions were issued to grant the protection This has been followed by an extension of American protection to citizens of Saxony, Hesse and Saxe Coburg Gotha, Colombia, Portugal, Uruguay, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Chile, Paraguay and Venezuela, in Paris The charge was an onerous one, requiring constant and severe labor as well as the exercise of patience, prudence and good judgment. It has been performed to the entire satisfaction of this Government, and, as I am officially informed, equally so to the satisfaction of the Government of North Germany

RECOGNITION OF THE FRENCH REPUBLIC

As soon as I learned that a Republic had been proclaimed at Paris, and that the people of France had acquiesced in the change, the Minister of the United States was directed by telegraph to recognize it and tender my congratulations, and those of the people of the United States, on the re-establishment in France of a system of government disconnected with the dynastic traditions of Europe. It appeared to be a proper subject for the felicitation of Americans, and should the present struggle result in attaching the hearts of the French to our simpler forms of representative government, it will be a subject of still further satisfaction to our people While we make no effort to impose our institutions upon the inhabitants of other countries, and while we adhere to our traditional neutrality in civil conflicts elsewhere, we cannot be indifferent to the strength of free political ideas in a great and highly civilized country like France.

AMERICAN MEDIATION IN EUROPE

We were asked by the new government to use our good offices jointly with those of the European powers in the interest of peace An answer was made that the established policy and true interests of the United States forbade them to interfere in European questions jointly by European Powers. I ascertained informally and unofficially that the Government of North Germany was not then disposed to listen to such representations from any power, and though earnestly wishing to see the blessings of peace restored to the belligerents, with all of whom the United States are on terms of friendship, I declined on the part of this government to take a step which could only result in injury to our true interests, without advancing the object for which our intervention was invoked Should the time come when the action of the United States can hasten the return of peace by a single hour, that action will be heartily taken.

NEUTRALITY

I deemed it prudent, in view of the number of persons of German and French birth living in the United States, to issue, soon after the official notice of a state of war had been received from both belligerents, a proclamation, defining the duties of the United States as a neutral, and the obligations of persons residing within their territory to observe their laws and the law of nations This proclamation was followed by others, as circumstances seemed to call for them The people, thus acquainted in advance of their duties and obligations, have assisted in preventing violations of the neutrality of the United States

THE CUBAN INSURRECTION

It is not understood that the condition of the insurrection in Cuba has materially changed since the close of the last session of Congress In an early stage of the contest the authorities of Spain inaugurated a system of arbitrary arrests, of close confinement, of military trial, and executions of persons suspected of complicity with the insurgents, and of summary embargo of their properties and sequestrations of their revenues by executive warrant Such proceedings, so far as they affected the person or property of citizens of the United States, were in violation of the provisions of the treaty of 1795, between the United States and Spain Representations of injuries resulting to several persons claiming to be citizens of the United States, by reason of such course, were made to the Spanish government from April 1869, to June last. The Spanish Minister at Washington has been clothed with a limited power to aid in redressing such wrongs, but this power was found to be withdrawn, in view, as it was said, of the revolutionary situation in which the Island of Cuba then was which, however, did not lead to a revocation of the extraordinary and arbitrary functions exercised by the Executive power of Cuba, and we were obliged to make our complaints at Madrid, and in the negotiations thus opened and still pending there the United States only claimed that for the future the rights secured to their citizens by treaty should be respected in Cuba, and that as to the past, a joint tribunal should be established in the United States, with full jurisdiction over all such claims; before which an impartial tribunal the claimant would be required to submit his case. On the other hand, Spain would be at liberty to traverse every material fact and thus complete equality would be done

ADJUSTED CLAIMS

The case which at one time threatened seriously to affect the relations between the United States and Spain has already been disposed of. This was the claim of the Lloyd Aspinwall. The case was referred to arbitration by mutual consent, and has resulted in an award to the United States for the owners of the same, of $19,702 in gold. Another and long pending claim of like nature, that of the whale-ship Canada has been disposed of by friendly arbitration during the present year It was referred, by the joint consent of Brazil and the United States, and the acceptance of Sir Edward Thornton, Her Britannic Majesty's Minister at Washington, who definitely undertook the laborious task of examining the voluminous mass of correspondence and testimony submitted by the two Governments and awarded to the United States the sum of $100,700 in gold, which has since been paid by the Imperial Government.

These recent examples show that the mode which they have proposed to Spain for adjusting the pending claims is just and equitable, and that it may be agreed to by both nations without dishonor. It is to be hoped that this moderate demand may be acceded to by Spain without further delay Should the pending negotiation, unfortunately and unexpectedly, be without result, it will then become my duty to communicate the fact to Congress and invite its action on the subject.

EXTRADITION TREATIES

The policy referred to, it is presumed will engage your earnest attention It is the obvious interest, especially of neighboring nations, to provide against impunity to those who may have committed high crimes within their borders, and who may have sought refuge abroad For this purpose extradition treaties have been concluded with several of the Central American republics, and others are in progress,

VENEZUELAN CLAIMS.

The sense of Congress is desired, as early as may be convenient, on the proceedings of the commission on the claims against Venezuela as commutated in the messages of March 4th, 1869, and March 1st, 1870, and March 31st, 1870 It has not been deemed advisable to distribute any of the money received from that Government until Congress shall have acted upon the subject

THE MASSACRE IN CHINA

The massacre of French and Prussian residents at Tientsin under circumstances of great barbarity, was supposed by some to have been premeditated and to indicate a purpose among the populace to exterminate foreigners in the Chinese Empire The evidence fails to establish such a supposition, but shows a complicity between the local authorities and the mob The Government at Pekin, however, seems disposed to fulfill its treaty obligations so far as it is able to do Unfortunately the news of the war between the German States and France reached China soon after the massacre It would appear that the popular mind became possessed with the idea that this contest, extending to Chinese waters, would neutralize the Christian influence and power, and that the time was coming when the superstitious mass might expel all foreigners and restore Mandarin influence Anticipating trouble I invited France and North Germany to make an authorized suspension of hostilities in the East, where they were temporarily suspended by act of the commanders and to act together for the future protection in China of the lives and property of Americans and Europeans

THE SLAVE TRADE—NATURALIZATION TREATY

Since adjournment of Congress, the ratifications of the treaty with Great Britain, for abolishing the mixed courts for the suppression of the slave trade, have been exchanged It is believed the slave trade is confined to the eastern coast of Africa, whence the slaves are taken to Arabian markets The ratifications of the naturalization convention between Great Britain and the United States have also been exchanged during the recess, and thus a long standing dispute between the two Governments has been settled in accordance with the principles always contended for by the United States

BOUNDARY DISPUTE

In April last, while engaged in locating a Military Reservation near Pembina a corps of Engineers discovered that the commonly received boundary line between the United States and British Possessions at that place is about 5,700 feet south of the true position of the zenith parallel, and the line, when run on what is supposed to be the true position of that parallel, would leave the fort of the Hudsons' Bay Company at Pembina, within the territory of the United States This information being communicated to the British Government, I was requested to consent, and I did consent, that the British occupation of the fort of the Hudsons' Bay Company should continue for the present. I deem it important, however, that this part of the boundary lines should be definitely fixed by a joint commission of the Governments, and I submit herewith estimates of the expense of such a commission on the part of the United States, and recommend an appropriation for that purpose The land boundary is already fixed and marked from the summit of the Rocky Mountains to Georgian Bay It should now in like manner be marked from the Lake of the Woods to the summit of the Rocky Mountains

I regret to say that no conclusion has been reached for an adjustment of the claims against Great Britain, growing out of the course adopted by that Government during the rebellion The Cabinet of London, so far as its views have been expressed, does not appear to be willing to concede that her Majesty's government was guilty of neglect, or did any act during the war by which the United States has any just cause of complaint. Our firm and unalterable convictions are directly the reverse I therefore recommend to Congress to authorize the appointment of Commissioners to take proof of the amounts and ownership of vessels, and their claims, and that authority be given for a settlement of those claims by the United States, so that this government shall have ownership of all private claims, as well as responsible control of all demands against Great Britain, and whenever her Majesty's government shall entertain a desire for a full and friendly adjustment of the claims, the United States government will enter upon their consideration with an earnest desire for a conclusion consistent with the honor and dignity of both nations

PEACE CONFERENCE BETWEEN SPAIN AND THE SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLICS

The long deferred peace conference between Spain and the South American Republics has been inaugurated at Washington, under the auspices of the United States, pursuant to the recommendation contained in the resolution of the House of Representatives, 17th of December, 1866 The Executive Department of the Government has given its friendly offices for the promotion of peace and harmony between Spain and the allied Republics Hesitations and obstacles occurred to the acceptance of the offer, ultimately, however, a conference was arranged, which was opened in this city on the 29th of October last, at which I authorized the Secretary of State to preside It was attended by the Ministers of Spain, Peru, Chile and Ecuador In consequence of the absence of a representative from Bolivia, the conference was adjourned until the attendance of a Plenipotentiary from that Republic could be secured, or other measures could be adopted toward compassing its object The allied and other Republics of Spanish origin on this continent may see in this fact a new proof of our sincere interest in their welfare, and of our desire to see them blessed with good governments, capable of maintaining order and preserving their territorial integrity, and of our sincere wish to extend our own commercial and social relations with them The time is not probably far distant when, in the natural course of events, the European political connection with this continent will cease Our policy should be shaped in view of this probability, so as to ally the commercial interests of the Spanish American States more closely to our own, and thus give the United States all the pre eminence and all the advantages which Mr Monroe, Mr Adams and Mr Clay contemplated when they proposed to join them to the Congress of Panama

ANNEXATION OF SAN DOMINGO

During the last session of Congress a treaty for the annexation of the Republic of San Domingo to the United States failed to receive the requisite two thirds vote of the Senate I was thoroughly convinced then that the best interests of the country, commercially and materially, demanded its ratification Time has only confirmed me in this view I now firmly believe that the moment it is known that the United States have entirely abandoned the project of accepting as a part of its territory the Island of San Domingo, a free port will be negotiated for by European nations In the Bay of Samana a large commercial city will spring up to which we will be tributary without receiving corresponding benefits The Government of San Domingo has voluntarily sought this annexation It is a weak power, numbering probably less than one hundred and twenty thousand souls, and yet possessing one of the richest localities under the sun, capable of supporting a population of 10,000 000 of people in luxury The people of San Domingo, not capable of maintaining themselves in their present condition must look for outside support They yearn for the protection of our free institutions and laws our progress and civilization, and shall we refuse them? The acquisition of San Domingo is desirable because of its geographical position It commands the entrance to the Caribbean Sea, and the Isthmus transit of commerce It possesses the richest soil, some of the best and most capacious harbors, a most salubrious climate, and the most valuable products of the forest mines and soil, of any of the West India Islands Its possession by the United States will, in a few years build up a coastwise commerce of immense magnitude, which will go far toward restoring to the United States our lost merchant marine service It will give to us those articles which we cannot consume to a great extent, and which we do not produce ourselves, thus equalizing our exports and imports In case of a foreign war it will give us command of all the islands referred to, and thus prevent an enemy from again possessing himself of a rendezvous upon our coast At present, our coasting trade between the States bordering on the Atlantic and those bordering on the Gulf of Mexico is by the Bahamas and Antilles We must, as it were, pass through foreign countries to get by from Georgia to the east coast of Florida. San Domingo, with a stable Government under which her immense resources can be developed, will give remunerative wages to 10,000 laborers not now upon the island This labor will take advantage of every available means of transportation to abandon the adjacent islands and seek the blessings of its freedom, where each inhabitant will receive the reward of his own labor Porto Rico and Cuba as a sequence will have to abolish slavery as a measure of self preservation to retain their laborers San Domingo will become a larger consumer of the products of Northern farms and manufactories The cheap rates at which her citizens can be furnished with food, tools and machinery will make it necessary that contiguous islands should have the same advantages in order to compete with the production of sugar coffee tobacco and all kinds of tropical fruit This will also open up to us a wider market for our products The production of our supply of these articles will cut off more than one hundred millions of our annual imports besides largely increasing our exports With such a picture before us, it is easy to see how our large debt abroad could ultimately be extinguished With the balance of trade against us, including interest of bonds held by foreigners, and money shipment for our citizens traveling in foreign lands, equal to the entire yield of the precious metals in this country it is not so easy to see how this result is to be otherwise accomplished than by the acquisition of San Domingo It is an adhesion to the Monroe doctrine, is a measure of national protection It is asserting our just claim to a controlling influence over the commercial traffic soon to flow from the West to the East, by way of the Isthmus of Darien, it is to build up our merchant marine, it is to furnish new markets for the products of our farms shops and manufactories, it is to make slavery unsupportable in Cuba and Porto Rico at once and ultimately so in Brazil, it is to settle the unhappy condition of Cuba, and end an exterminating conflict it is to provide honest means of paying our honest debts without overtaxing the people, it is to furnish our citizens with the necessaries of every day life at cheaper rates than ever before it is in fine, a rapid stride towards that greatness which the intelligence, industry and enterprise of the citizens of the United States are entitled to assume among the nations In view of the importance of this question, I earnestly urge upon Congress early action and an expression of its views as to the best means of acquiring San Domingo My suggestion is, that by joint resolution of the two Houses of Congress, the Executive be authorized to appoint a commission to negotiate for a treaty with the authorities of San Domingo for the acquisition of that island, and that an appropriation be made to defray the expenses of such commission The question may then be determined by the action of the two Houses of Congress upon a resolution of annexation as in the case of the acquisition of Texas So convinced am I of all the advantages to flow from the acquisition of San Domingo, and of the great disadvantages, I might almost say the calamities from non acquisition, that I believe the subject has only to be investigated to be approved

THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO.

It is to be regretted that our representations in regard to the injurious effects, especially upon the revenue of the United States, of the policy of the Mexican Government in exempting from import duties a large tract of its territory on our borders, have not only been fruitless, but that it is even proposed in that country to extend the limits within which the privilege adverted to has hitherto been enjoyed

FINANCIAL.

To the last session of Congress I respectfully recommended that an appropriation be made, and authority be given to issue new bills, upon such paper and in such amounts as may be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury The Comptroller of Currency, in his report for 1869, recommended the establishment of an agency in the city of New York, under the control of the National Banks for the redemption of their issue In substance this recommendation seems to be not only proper, but necessary The expense should be borne by the banks Coupled with the recommendation, I take this occasion to say that the banking system throughout the country appears to be well managed, and to answer every reasonable purpose for which it was established. It is no doubt true that Treasury notes, representing an equal amount of public debt, without interest, are a most economical circulation by the Government; but it should be considered that the banking institutions of the country are agencies by which business is established and fostered The whole system of banking should be extended only for the purpose of meeting the demands of business but when demands are urgent, concession should be made upon the ground that the prosperity of business is more important than the mere saving of interest arising from the circulation of Treasury notes, excluding re-deposits

THE MINT SYSTEM OF THE COUNTRY

The amount of gold and silver deposited at the Mint and its several branches during the last fiscal year, was $59 403,788 10 coinage for the year was $24,636,011, and the value of gold and silver bars stamped was $8,748,632 91 I respectfully ask the attention of Congress to a bill prepared in this department, and submitted at the last session, and to the accompanying report relative to the mint and coinage system throughout the country

LIGHT HOUSES

A report from the Lighthouse Board sets forth in detail the difficulties which have arisen in that branch of the public service from operations of the fifth section of the act of July 12th, 1870, making appropriation for the Legislative and Executive expenses of the Government for the year ending June 30th, 1871 Legislation is asked for by the Board. It seems to me to be necessary that a report of the Superintendent of the Coast Surveys should be given

CANADA AND OUR FISHERMEN

The course pursued by the Canadian authorities toward the fishermen of the United States during the past season, has not been marked by a friendly feeling By the first article of the Convention of 1818, between Great Britain and the United States, it was agreed that the inhabitants of the United States should have forever, in common, the navigation of the St Lawrence Since Mr Clay advanced his argument in favor of our right, the principle for which he contended has been frequently and by various nations recognized by law or by treaty, and has been extended to several other great rivers by the treaty concluded at Mayence in 1831 The Rhine was declared free from the point where it is first navigable into the sea By the convention between Spain and Portugal, concluded in 1835, the navigation of the Douro throughout its whole extent, was made free for the subjects of both Crowns In 1853 the Argentine Confederation by treaty threw open the free navigation of the Parana and Uruguay to the merchant vessels of all nations In 1856 the Crimean war was closed by a treaty which provided for the free navigation of the Danube In 1858, Bolivia, by treaty, declared it regarded the rivers Amazon and La Plata, in accordance with the fixed principles of international law, as highways or channels, opened by nature for the commerce of all nations In 1859, the Paraguay was made free by treaty and in December, 1866, the Emperor of Brazil, by Imperial decree declared the Amazon to be open to all the frontier of Brazil to the merchant ships of all nations. The greatest living British authorities on this subject, asserting the abstract right of the British claim, say it seems difficult to deny that Great Britain may ground her refusal upon strict law but it is equally difficult to deny—first, that in so doing she exercises harshly an extreme and bad law, second, that her conduct with respect to the navigation of the St Lawrence is in glaring and discreditable inconsistency with her conduct in respect to the navigation of the Mississippi, on the ground that she possessed a small domain in which the Mississippi took its rise. She insisted on this right to navigate the entire volume of its waters, on the ground that she possessed both banks of the St Lawrence where it disembogues itself into the sea She denies to the United States the right of the navigation through about one half of the waters of Lake Ontario, Erie, Huron and Superior while the greater portion of these lakes, and the whole of Lake Michigan, through which the river flows, are the property of the United States The whole nation is interested in securing cheap transportation from the States of the West to the Atlantic To citizens of those States it secures a greater return for their labor, to the inhabitants of the seaboard it offers cheaper food, to the nation an increase in the annual supplies of wealth. It is hoped the Government of Great Britain will see the justice of abandoning the narrow and inconsistent claim to which her Canadian provinces have urged her adherence The Atlantic would be in foreign hands Their vessels on trans Atlantic voyages, having access to our lake ports, which would be denied to American vessels on similar voyages To state such a proposition is to refute its justice During the Administration of Mr John Quincy Adams Mr. Clay unquestionably demonstrated the natural right of the citizens of the United States to the navigation of this river, claiming the Act of Congress of Vienna upon the Rhine and other rivers, in which all nations shared The judgment of European jurists and statesmen is that the inhabitants of a country through which a navigable river passes have a natural right to enjoy the navigation of that river to and into the sea, even through the territory of another Power

ENCOURAGEMENT TO AMERICAN COMMERCE

Our depressed commerce is a subject to which I called your special attention at the last session of Congress I suggested that it will in future have to look more to the countries south of us, and to China and Japan. Our representatives to all these Governments have exerted their influence to encourage trade between the United States and the countries to which they are accredited, but the fact exists that the carrying is done almost entirely in foreign bottoms, and while this state of affairs exists, we cannot control our due share of the commerce of the world That between the Pacific States and China and Japan is about all the carrying trade now carried on by American vessels I would recommend a liberal policy towards that line of American steamers, one that will insure its success, and its more increased usefulness The cost of building iron vessels—the only ones that can compete with foreign ships in the carrying trade—is so much greater in the United States than in foreign countries, that without some assistance from the Government, they cannot be successfully built here There will be several propositions laid before Congress in the course of the present session looking to a remedy for this evil, even if it should be at some expense to the National Treasury I hope such encouragement will be given as will secure American shipping on the high seas, and American shipbuilding at home

A SAFER BUILDING FOR THE GOVERNMENT ARCHIVES WANTED

The condition of the archives of the Department of State calls for the early action of Congress The building now rented by that Department is a frail structure, at an inconvenient distance from the Executive Mansion and from the other Departments; It is ill adapted to the purposes for which it is used, has not capacity to accommodate the archives, and is not fire proof Its remote situation, its slender construction and the absence of a supply of water in the neighborhood leaves but little hope of safety for either the building or its contents In case of the accident of a fire, its destruction would involve the loss of the rolls containing the original acts and resolutions of Congress, of the history and records of the Revolution and of the confederation, of the whole series of diplomatic and consular archives since the adoption of the Constitution, of the many other valuable records and papers left with that Department when it was the principal depository of the Government archives

I recommend an appropriation for the construction of a building for the Department of State

DEPARTMENTAL CHANGES SUGGESTED

I recommend to your reconsideration the propriety of transferring to the Department of the Interior, to which they seem more appropriately to belong all powers and duties in relation to the Territories with which the Department of State is now charged by law or usage and from the Interior Department to the War Department of the Pension Bureau so far as it regulates the payment of soldiers pensions I would further recommend that the payment of naval pensions be transferred to one of the bureaus of the Navy Department.

THE ESTIMATES FOR THE PRESENT FISCAL YEAR

The estimates for the expenses of the Government for the fiscal year are $1 324 434 60; Less for the current one, but they exceed the appropriation for the present year for the same items, $39 721, In this estimate however, are included $22,338,278 37 for public works heretofore begun under Congressional provision, and of which only so much is asked as Congress may choose to give The appropriation for the same work, for the present fiscal year was $19 845 160 06

THE FLUCTUATION IN GOLD—THE EVILS OF A DEPRECIATED CURRENCY

The average value of gold, as compared with National currency for the year 1869 was about 134, and for eleven months of 1870 the same relative value has been about 115 The approach to a specie basis is very gratifying, but the fact can not be denied that instability of the value of our currency is prejudicial to our prosperity, and tends to keep up prices to the detriment of trade The evils of a depreciated and fluctuating currency are so great, that now when the premium on gold has fallen so much, it would seem that the time has arrived when, by prudent legislation Congress should look to a policy which would place our currency at par with gold at no distant day

THE TARIFF QUESTION AND REVENUE REFORM

The tax collected from the people has been reduced more than $80 000,000 per annum By steadiness in our present course there is no reason why, in a few short years, the National tax gatherer may not disappear from the door of the citizen almost entirely. With the revenue stamps dispensed by Postmasters in every community a tax upon liquors of all sorts, and tobacco in all forms, and a wise adjustment of the tariff which will put a duty only upon those articles which we could dispense with, known as luxuries, and on those which we use more of than we produce revenue enough may be raised after a few years of peace and consequent reduction of indebtedness to fulfill all our obligations, and a further reduction of expenses, in addition to a reduction of interest account, may be relied on to make this practical

Revenue reform, if it means this, has my earnest support, if it implies a collection of all the revenue for the support of government for the payment of principal and interest of tax public debt, pensions, etc, by direct taxation, taxes the people, then I am against revenue reform, and confidently believe the people are with me. If it means failure to provide the necessary means to defray all expenses of the government, and thereby repudiate the public debt, then I am still more opposed to such kind of revenue reform

Revenue reform has not been defined by any of its advocates, to my knowledge but seems to be accepted as something which is to supply every man's wants, without any cost or effort on his part A true revenue reform cannot be made in a day but must be the work of National Legislation and of time As soon as the revenue can be dispensed with, all duty should be removed from coffee, tea and other like articles of universal use, not produced by ourselves The necessities of the country compel us to collect revenue from our imports An army of assessors and collectors is not a pleasant sight to the citizens but that of a tariff for revenue is necessary Such a tariff so far as it gives encouragement to home products affords employment to the laborer at living wages in contrast to the pauper labor of the Old World and also in the development of home resources under the Act of Congress of July 15, 1870.

ARMY REDUCTION—A NEW WAR DEPARTMENT BUILDING NEEDED

The army has been gradually reduced so that on the 1st of January, 1871, the number of commissioned officers and men will not exceed the number contemplated by the law

The War Department building is an old structure, not fire proof and entirely inadequate in dimensions to our present wants Many thousands of dollars are now paid annually for rent of buildings to accommodate the various bureaus of the Department I recommend an appropriation for a new War Department building suited to the present growing wants of the nation

The report of the Secretary of War shows a very satisfactory reduction in the expenses of the army for the last fiscal year For this year you are referred to his accompanying report

NAVAL EXPENDITURES

The expenses of the Navy for the whole of last year, from December 1st, 1869, the date of the last report, are less than $19 000,000, or about $1,000,000 less than they were the previous year The expenses since the commencement of the fiscal year, since July 1st, show for the five months a decrease of over $2,400,000 from those of the corresponding months of last year The estimates for the current year were $28 205 678 0; those for next year are $20 682 317 00, with $[illegible] 000 00 additional for necessary permanent improvements These estimates are made closely for the maintenance of the naval establishment as it now is without much in the nature of permanent improvement The appropriations made for the current years were evidently intended by Congress and are sufficient to only keep the navy on its present footing, by the repairing and refitting of our old ships This policy must of course, gradually but surely destroy the navy, and it is in itself far from economical, as each year that it is pursued the necessity for more repairs in ship and navy yards becomes more imperative and more costly, and our current expenses are annually increased for the mere repair of ships many of whom must soon become unsafe and useless

I hope, during the present session of Congress, to be able to submit to it a plan by which naval vessels can be built and repairs made with great saving upon the present cost It can hardly be wise statesmanship in a Government which represents a country with over five thousand miles of coast line in both oceans, exclusive of Alaska, and containing forty millions of progressive people with relations of every nature with almost every foreign country, to rest satisfied with such inadequate means of enforcing any foreign policy, either of protection or redress Separated by the ocean from the nations of the Eastern continent, our navy is our only means of direct protection to our citizens abroad or for the enforcement of any foreign policy.

THE POSTAL DEPARTMENT

The accompanying report of the Postmaster General shows a most satisfactory working of the Department With the adoption of the recommendations contained therein, particularly those relating to a reform in the franking privileges and the adoption of correspondence cards, a self sustaining postal system may speedily be looked for, and at no distant day a further reduction of the scale of postage attained.

COMMUNICATIONS BY THE POSTMASTER GENERAL AND ATTORNEY GENERAL

I recommend authorization by Congress to the Postmaster General and Attorney General to issue all commissions to officials appointed through their respective Departments At present these commissions, where appointments are Presidential, are issued by the State Department The law in all the Departments of Government, except those of the Post Office and of Justice, authorizes each to issue its own commissions

A RADICAL REFORM IN OFFICIAL APPOINTMENTS SUGGESTED

Always favoring practical reforms, I respectfully call your attention to a practice of long standing which I would like too see remedied by this Congress, it is a reform in the civil service of the country I would have it go beyond the mere fixing of the tenure of offices of clerks and employees who do not require the advice and consent of the Senate to make their appointments complete I would have it govern, not the tenure, but the manner of making appointments There is no duty which so much embarrasses the Executive and Heads of Departments as that of appointments, nor is there any such arduous and thankless labor imposed on Senators and Representatives as that of finding places for constituents The present system does not secure the best, and often not even fit men for public places The elevation and purification of the civil service of the Government will be hailed with approval by the whole people of the United States

REFORM IN THE MANAGEMENT OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

Reform in the management of Indian Affairs has received the special attention of the Administration from its inauguration to the present day The experiment of making it a missionary work was tried with a few agencies given to the denomination of Friends and has been found to work most advantageously All agencies and superintendencies not so disposed were given to officers of the army The act of Congress regulating the army renders army officers ineligible for civil positions Indian agencies being civil offices I determined to give all the agencies to such religious denomination as had heretofore established missionaries among the Indians, and perhaps to some other denominations who would undertake the work on the same terms as missionary work The societies selected are allowed to name their own agents, subject to the approval of the Executive, and are expected to instruct and aid them as Missionaries to Christianize and civilize the Indians and train them in the arts of peace The Government watches over the official acts of these agents, and requires of them as strict an accountability as if they were appointed in any other manner The confident hope is felt that the policy now pursued will, in a few years, bring all Indians upon Reservations where they will live in houses, have schools and churches, will be pursuing peaceful and self sustaining avocations, and where they may be visited by the law abiding white men with the same impunity that he now visits the civilized white settlements I call your special attention to the report of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for full information on this subject

THE PUBLIC DOMAIN

During the last fiscal year 8 495 413 acres of public land were disposed of Of this quantity 3,698,910 acres were taken under the homestead law and 2,951,591 acres sold for cash, the remainder was located with military warrants, college or Indian scrip, or applied in satisfaction of grants to railroads or other public uses The entries under the homestead law during the last year covered 961,545 acres more than those during the preceding year Surveys have been vigorously prosecuted to the full extent of the means applicable to the purpose The quantity of land in market will amply supply the present demand The claim of the settlers, under the Homestead or the Pre-emption Law is not, however, limited to lands subject to sale at private entry Unappropriated surveyed public land, may be acquired under the former laws if the party entitled to enter under them will comply with the requirements they prescribe in regard to the residence and cultivation the actual settler's preference and right of purchase is even broader, and extends to lands which were unsurveyed at the time of his settlement His right was formerly confined within much narrower limits and at one period of our history was conferred only by special statute they were enacted from time to time to legalize what was then regarded as an authorized intrusion upon the national domain The opinion that the public lands should be regarded chiefly as a source of revenue is no longer maintained The rapid settlement and successful cultivation of them is now justly considered of more importance to our well being than is the fund which the sale of them would produce The remarkable growth and prosperity of our new States and Territories attest the wisdom of the legislation which invites the tiller of the soil to secure a permanent home on terms within the reach of all The pioneer who incurs the dangers and privations of a frontier life, and thus aiding the foundation of new commonwealths, renders a signal service to his country, and is entitled to its special favor and protection of the laws to secure that object and largely promotes the general welfare They should therefore be cherished as a permanent feature of our land system good faith requires us to give full effect to existing grants The time honored and beneficent policy of setting apart certain sections of public land for educational purposes in the new States should be continued when ample provisions shall have been made for the objects I submit as a question worthy of serious consideration, whether the residue of our National Domain should not be totally disposed of under the provisions of the homestead and pre-emption laws, in addition to the swamp and overflowed lands granted to the State in which they are situated Of the lands taken under the Agricultural College Acts and for the internal improvement purposes under the act of September 18, and the acts supplemental thereto there had been conveyed up to the close of the last fiscal year, by patent or other equivalent evidence of title, to State and corporations 2,783,625 713 acres It is estimated that an additional quantity of 174 735 523 acres is still due under grants for like uses The policy of thus aiding the States in building works of internal improvement, was inaugurated more than forty years since in the grants to Indiana and Illinois to aid those States in opening canals to connect the waters of the Wabash with those of Lake Erie, and the waters of Illinois with those of Lake Michigan It was followed with some modification in the grant to Illinois of alternate sections of public land within certain limits of the Illinois Central Railroad Fourteen States and sundry corporations have received similar subsidies in connection with railroads completed or in process of construction As the above sections are rated at the double minimum the sale of them at the enhanced price has thus in many instances indemnified the Treasury for the granted lands The construction of some of these thoroughfares has undoubtedly given a vigorous impetus to the development of our resources and the settlement of the more distant portions of the country It may however, be understood that much of our legislation in this regard has been characterized by indiscriminate and profuse liberality The United States should not loan their credit in aid of any enterprise undertaken by States or corporations nor grant lands in any instance unless the projected work is of acknowledged national importance I am strongly inclined to the opinion that it is inexpedient and unnecessary to bestow subsidies of either description but should Congress determine otherwise, I earnestly recommend that the rights of settlers and of the public be more effectually secured and protected by appropriate legislation

THE PATENTS FILED DURING THE YEAR

During the year ending September 30th, 1870, there were filed in the Patent Office 19,411 applications for patents, 3,374 caveats and 160 applications for the extension of patents 13,622 patents, including issues and designs, were issued, 110 extended and 1,089 allowed but not issued by reason of the non payment of the final fees The receipts of the office during the fiscal year were $13 639,479 in excess of its expenditures

THE DECENNIAL CENSUS

The work of the Census Bureau has been energetically prosecuted The preliminaries, containing much information of special value and interest will be ready for delivery during the present Session The remaining volumes will be completed with all the dispatch consistent with perfect accuracy in arranging and classifying the returns We shall thus, at no distant day, be furnished with an authentic record of our condition and resources It will I doubt not, attest the growing prosperity of the country, although during the decade which has just closed it was so severely tried by the great war waged to maintain its integrity and to secure and perpetuate our free institutions

THE PENSION BUREAU

During the last fiscal year the sum paid to pensioners, including the cost of disbursement was $27 780 811 11 and 1,758 bounty land warrants were issued At its close 198 686 names were on the pension rolls The labors of the Pension Office have been directed to the severe scrutiny of the evidence submitted in favor of new claims to the discovery of fictitious claims which have heretofore been allowed. The appropriation for the employment of special agents, for the investigation of frauds, has been judiciously used and the results of it have been of unquestionable benefit to the service.

EDUCATION AND AGRICULTURE

The subjects of education and agriculture are of great interest to the success of our republican institutions, happiness and grandeur as a nation In the interests of one, a bureau has been established in the Interior Department, the Bureau of Education, and in the interest of the other, a separate department, that of Agriculture I believe great good is to flow from the operations of both these bureaus if properly fostered I cannot commend to your careful consideration too highly the reports of the Commissioners of Education and of Agriculture, nor urge too strongly such liberal legislation as to secure their efficiency.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, I would sum up the policy of the Administration to be a thorough enforcement of every law, a faithful collection of tax provided for, economy in the disbursement of the same, a prompt payment of the debt of the nation, a reduction of taxes as rapidly as the requirements of the country will admit, reduction of taxation and tariff to be so arranged as to afford the greatest number honest and fair dealings with all other people to the end that war, with all its blighting consequences, may be avoided, but without surrendering any right or obligation due to us, a reform in the treatment of the Indians and in the whole civil service of the country, and, finally in securing a pure untrammelled ballot where every man now entitled to cast a vote may do so just once at each election without fear of molestation or proscription on account of his political faith, nativity or color.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 15, 1870

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The derangement of the telegraph lines last week prevented the transmission of this document, at the time it was due, to the Oregon press, and to-day we present it from copies received from California by steamer

The candor of the message and its strong good sense are apparent It is not necessary to utter any rhapsody over it by calling it "a most able State paper," and using other hackneyed terms in an endeavor to praise it The message is simply a good, solid, sober document, and is characteristic of President Grant. There is nothing sensational about it and no strained effort to produce startling effects

The several topics treated are presented in a plain and comprehensive manner The President discusses with some earnestness the San Domingo question and adheres with much pertinacity to his opinion that the acquisition of that island would be very advantageous to the United States To support his views he presents strong arguments Recent indications, however, are that the Senate is still as immovable as ever and will decline to ratify the treaty.

The President talks very sensibly on the topics of taxation and revenue reform He rightly considers the latter phrase, as used by those who are trying to make a hobby of it to consist of glittering generalities with nothing of a practical character in them Against their visionary theories the good and substantial results of the present policy will ... [illegible] with the people

But we did not set out to go over in detail the subjects discussed in the message, the document is one whose salient features will readily present themselves to the reader. But we cannot close without calling attention to the concluding paragraph, in which the general policy of the Administration is summed up in a truly admirable way. Our Democratic brethren would do well to read it, ... to observe how remarkably the results ... by the Administration coincide ...

Portland a Railway Center.

... the opportunity which Portland now has ... the west side railroad she has ... opportunity to take an important step toward becoming a great railroad center In ... the case the construction of the ... road with its terminal depot in this ... a prospective advantage far exceeding that to be derived from the mere fact of the building of a railroad on the west side of the Willamette river It is an important part of the ... system that should radiate from Portland in all directions, and build this city to the rank of a commercial metropolis ... glance briefly at the situation

The Oregon and California Railroad is already ... away toward the head of the ... valley Within three years, in very probability, it will be pushed into Southern Oregon and bring that portion of the state in communication with Portland ... within that time a connection may be effected with California and the great central transcontinental line On the railway which ... region with Puget Sound work is already begun and will be pushed with energy ... portion of this road will certainly ... in operation before the close of 1871, and within two years from this date travellers ... from the Columbia river to Puget Sound ... Then the railroad that is ... be built through the Cascade mountains ... the Columbia river cuts them, and hence reaching away toward the east and forming the great trunk line, known as the Northern Pacific may be drawn to this point as a railroad and commercial center And to complete the system here is wanting only the road on the west side of the Willamette valley and the line to Astoria. Then from Portland in all directions railways will be extended to bring to her marts the rich tributes of trade and commerce, and to make her a place of wealth, business and importance, as railway centers always are

With railway enterprises just opening all around us it is important, however, for Portland to act with judgment and promptness, so as to make the most of her situation In order to make her future perfectly sure, now is the time for the concentration of capital here Portland should be important enough to command the situation and to draw to herself the Northern Pacific trunk line as well as the line now building between the Columbia river and Puget Sound To construct the west side road will give great additional strength to Portland in securing the Northern Pacific ... That is a fact which will be obvious to every one who considers it. Hence the importance ... a business and commercial point of view, of taking measures to concentrate here the large capital which the construction of the west side road will bring to this point. In this view of the situation the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, which will make the west side road a fixed fact, and which is to be paid only when twenty miles of the road are completed, will be the best investment the citizens of Portland have ever made Now is the time for those interested in the future of this city to take action for that future.

It is evident that the Herald, for some reason or other, don't want a west side road built Every project looking to the accomplishment of that work has met its opposition Consistently with its course heretofore it now attempts to dissuade citizens of Portland from accepting the proposition that is now before them, and virtually says that all are fools who think of subscribing to make up the fund that will insure the construction of the west side road and bring it into this city Those who are interested in real estate in the city will, however, judge for themselves whether it is not a good investment to give one hundred thousand dollars for an object which will within one year enhance the value of the landed property of the city by more than a million

B. F Dowell, Esq., of Jacksonville, has gone to Washington again this winter His business will be to represent claimants and collect claims before the Departments For several winters he has been engaged in this business and has been very successful An advertisement appears elsewhere in this paper, in which the scope of his business is fairly stated Persons who have claims growing out of the Indian wars in Oregon, which they desire to make an effort to obtain, may find it to their interest to correspond with Mr Dowell

W H. Odell has been confirmed as Surveyor General of Oregon. He will make a good and capable officer

WASHINGTON FACT AND GOSSIP.

It is stated that Colfax will become editor of the Brooklyn Union when he retires from the Vice Presidency, at $10,000 a year

On the 8th inst, as Gen Grant was entering the door of the Treasury Department, with a cigar between his lips, he was hailed by a messenger with "No smoking in this building, sir" The cigar was tossed out.

There seems to be a determination on the part of the Republicans to abolish the custom of collecting money from Government employees for the purpose of political proceedings Senator Wilson introduced a bill to-day providing that no Government official shall levy any tax on Government employees for political purposes It imposes a fine on any official for collecting any such assessment.

Gen. Logan will introduce, as soon as possible, a resolution abolishing the office of Admiral of the Navy at once, and the office of Vice-Admiral as soon as a vacancy occurs. This will reduce the navy to an equality of rank with the army grades of General and Lieutenant General. Logan intends to press this measure before any confirmation is made by the senate of an appointment to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Admiral Farragut.

A special dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says it was reported there last night that President Grant and Admiral Porter have been reconciled and that General Sherman has been acting as peacemaker It is argued by Admiral Porter's friends that as Gen. Sherman was promoted before the rank of General of the army was abolished, so Admiral Porter should be allowed to succeed to the office, made vacant by the death of Farragut, before action is taken on Gen Logan's joint resolution.

WAR MISCELLANY.

A New York dispatch of the 8th has this: Numbers of Prussian agents are here buying arms, and have been for several weeks. They have purchased largely.

A Herald dispatch says The general impression prevails that the prospects of the restoration of the Emperor are steadily improving The argument in favor of his restoration is the ruinous consequences to the many poverty stricken sections of Germany, in case of a much longer protraction of the war.

The Tribune cable correspondent at the head quarters of Prince George, says the prisoners looked like sturdy fellows, and anything but badly fed, they were hearty, and good fighters, to judge from their expressions A sergeant bade me 'Bon jour,' and told me cheerily that every one who indulged in the anticipation of a speedy capitulation was entirely out of his reckoning "Food is plentiful," he said, with a laugh, "and the programme is, sorties every day and in every direction"

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says "In every single respect the position of France at the end of November is better than it was at the end of October. She has again an army in the field, an army far from contemptible in numbers, and composed of troops who, as regards courage and discipline, are superior to any who have yet been in action Gambetta's exertions have secured a large supply of arms, field artillery and ammunition, and though Palladines has yet given only negative proofs of his skill as a strategist, he has, at all events, broken through the traditions of the present war All foreign accounts respect Gambetta as the coming man of France."

A correspondent at St Petersburg writes on the 2d instant, that the warlike feeling prevailing over the whole Empire is like that on the arrival of the Sebastopol news Gortschakoff's circular created a universal feeling of joy Notice is given by the Emperor to the reserved corps to hold themselves in readiness, which is considered of great importance This measure has not been resorted to since the Crimean war Russia is committed to a bold line of conduct and is resolved to carry it out in spite of all opposition It has been announced by the Emperor that forty million rubles will be devoted to extraordinary war expenses. By the 1st of January, 49 700 remodeled guns, and 150,000 breech loaders will be ready for use

Cable Tariffs Increased

The following statement was made by the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company at New York on the 10th inst

All efforts to repair either of the broken cables have thus far proved unsuccessful Such efforts will be continued whenever and so long as the state of the weather will permit The probabilities of success, however are much less at this season of the year than in summer There is now an accumulation of business at each end of the remaining cable, equal to its capacity during an entire day of twenty four hours making forty eight hours in all This accumulation is the result of only four days' business It is plain, therefore, that measures must be promptly taken to diminish the volume of business, or the useful mass of the cable will be seriously impaired, if not wholly destroyed. In the decision which we have arrived at in this emergency, we have not been influenced merely by a desire to increase the revenues We have no right to discriminate between our customers, and to decide whose messages are important and whose are not Offerings being in excess of our capacity to transmit, there seems to be no other course open except to increase the tariff

Mr David Wilder proposes through the Boston papers, that the Government resume specie payments by taking up the greenbacks at ninety cents on the dollar in coin Those notes are promises to pay dollars, and, until ninety cents can be legally made a dollar, there can be no justification for repudiating the ten cents on the dollar that would not also justify the repudiation of the whole note.

Not Our Style

ENGLAND DON'T UNDERSTAND OUR WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

A cable dispatch says that the Pall Mall Gazette urges the sending of John Bright to Washington as an Envoy of Great Britain to insure pacific relations with America in the present crisis. The suggestion is unworthy of notice except as the expression of a suspicion or apprehension that should Great Britain get her hands full with the Russian difficulty the United States would seize opportunity to press all of her claims to a settlement and take advantage of England's temporary inability to resist

We protest against such an apprehension as we would against the pusillanimity of the course deprecated There is not in our history nor in the character of our people the slightest justification for the assumption that we would select for pressing the Alabama and other claims a time when England would be under duress to grant all our demands That is not our way Before our rebellion was wholly crushed we gave France peremptory notice to quit Mexico We did not stop to count the forces the Empire could bring against us, but simply bore in mind the fact that the war against the Republic of Mexico was a part of the war against the Union and closed up both together Nor did we wait a favorable opportunity for presenting the butt end of our case against England We not only sent in our entire bill for damages, but accompanied it with a semi-official interpretation in the shape of a speech by Mr Sumner which rendered it almost morally impossible for Englishmen of any spirit to comply with demands thus couched

In other words, we did all of our blustering when we had hardly got out of our own great war, and while England was entirely free-handed to fight us, if the controversy should run into that The United States is not so weak or so mean as to seek favorable opportunities for exacting terms of the Great Powers We make our demands when the occasion is fresh and our blood is hot, and do not moderate our accents because the Power addressed is strong and disengaged

WYOMING.

CHEYENNE, Dec 1.—Information is received that a surveying party sent out by Surveyor General Reed, to extend an important line through Wyoming to the Utah boundary south of the Union Pacific railroad, have safely crossed Medicine Bow Mountain They encountered ten inches of snow on the mountain This line expected to reach the western boundary near Evanston early in January, and is to serve as a base line from which to survey the numerous coal and iron mines, and towns along the railroad, early next season

In his charge to the Grand Jury, at New Orleans, recently, Judge Abell spoke quite feelingly of the worthless classes "There is yet another matter," says the Judge, "to which I deem it proper to call your attention, which I deem of vital interest to the State and the peace and quiet of the city of New Orleans, and which I trust you will press upon the consideration of the ensuing Legislature. It is the large number of idle, dissolute, dishonest, and disorderly persons that infest our city. No city on this continent possesses so many prostitutes, street walkers, vagabonds and thieves, in proportion to the population, as the city of New Orleans"

An Arkansas man, sentenced to be hanged, is in a bad way. The neighboring carpenters refuse to build the gallows, and the Sheriff don't know how. The prisoner is a carpenter himself, and the Sheriff has tried several times to have him build it, but he says "he'll be hanged if he will"

Why is it that Kohn & Fishel keep the largest supply of Clothing in this city?

Because their sales require it.

Why can they afford to sell cheaper than any other house?

Because they buy in large quantities and get them cheaper and because they are satisfied with small profits and quick returns, which system has brought them an enormous trade, and made them first in their line in the city

December is here with her storms and her rain,
And it makes the folks of cold weather complain.
Hark ye, dear gentlemen, this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm, for O NEILL & CO
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof against the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply, that all who go there,
Unlike Flora McFlimsey, can find something to wear

Look here, reader we do not wish to tell you that consumption can be cured when the lungs are half consumed nor that Dr Wonderful, or any other fellow, has discovered a remedy that will make men live forever and leave death to play for want of work No you have heard enough of that, and we do not wonder that you have by this time become disgusted with it, But when we tell you that Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy will positively cure the worst cases of Catarrh, we only assert that which thousands can testify to. The Three Dyspeptics.—Here is an extract from a letter received by Messrs Drake & Co Nov 2 1869 "Three friends met one day in the latter part of last September in the rotunda of the Astor House Your correspondent was one of the three. We were all suffering from the 'national disease,' indigestion, and all agreed on one point, viz that nothing agreed with us We discussed medicines One had tried blue pills, another extract of dandelion another almost every variety of purgatives. In fact, we had made apothecaries' shops of our insides; but nothing had done us any good I asked I wondered if your PLANTATION BITTERS would help us any. After some talk we concluded to try it, and meet again at the same place that day month to compare notes We did so It was a jovial meeting I can tell you We scarcely knew one another Each had gained flesh each reported a good appetite sound sleep an easy stomach and a regular habit of body The change was marvellous It was agreed to report the facts to you and I was appointed to make this communication You can publish it if you choose and refer all skeptics for particulars to Yours truly, ALBERT W SHAW "549 Downing street New York

The Amazon.

This great river rises in the little Peruvian lake of Lourieocha just below the limits of perpetual snow 1 or 500 miles it flows swiftly through a deep valley Then turning sharply eastward, it runs 2,500 miles across the great equatorial plains Two thousand miles above its mouth its width is a mile and a half, increasing to over ten miles at the head of the Delta were it divides, and, after running 400 miles, presents a front of 150 miles upon the ocean. For a great distance it is bordered by side channels or bayous, as they are called upon the Mississippi named by the Indians igarapes, or canoe paths From Santarem, the principal town above Para, one may paddle a thousand miles parallel to the river without once entering the stream For twenty-five degrees of latitude every river that flows down the eastern slope of the Andes is an affluent of the Amazon It is as though all the rivers from Mexico to Oregon united their waters in the Mississippi A half score of these tributaries are larger—the Danube excepted—than any European river of Russia The volume of its waters are greater even than the breadth of the river would indicate At Nauta, 2,200 miles from its mouth, the depth is forty feet, increasing rapidly as it approaches the ocean The largest ocean steamer could doubtless steam 2,200 miles up the Amazon.

The vegetation of the valley is exuberant. There is a bewildering diversity of grand and beautiful trees, a wild, unconquered race of vegetable giants draped and festooned by creeping plants. The moment you land upon the shore, you are confronted by a solid wall of vegetation, through which, if you wish to proceed, you must hew your way with axe or machete. Palms, of which thirty varieties are noted, constitute the majority of trees Then there are "cow trees," a hundred and fifty feet high, yielding a milk of the consistency of cream, used for tea, coffee, and custards. The "caucho," or rubber tree, though of a different species from that of the East Indies, produces a gum which constitutes most of the rubber of commerce Agassiz puts this tree forty or eighty feet high, in the same class with the milk-weed of our American pastures Of ornamental wood there is no end. Foremost among these is the moria-pinima or tortoise shell wood, the most beautiful in grain and color in the world Enough of this is wasted every year to veneer all the dwellings of the civilized world. For many years to come the exports of the Amazon Valley must be mainly the products of its forests Yet strangley enough, timber is now one of the chief articles of import at Para A city of 35,000 inhabitants lying on the verge of a great forest, buys pine boards from far away Maine This folly will in time come to an end Contrary to all that we might expect, the climate of the Amazon valley is temperate rather than tropical It is more equal than in any other region of the world.

Widow Jones' Cow.—Widower Smith's wagon stopped one morning before Widow Jones', and gave the usual signal that he wanted somebody in the house, by dropping his elbows on his knees. Out tripped the widow as lively as a cricket, with a tremendous black ribbon on her snow white cap. Good morning was soon said on both sides, and the widow waited for what was further to be said.

"Well, Ma'am Jones, perhaps you don't want to sell one of your cows, no how, nothin' no way, do you?"

"Well, there, Mister Smith, you couldn't have spoken my mind better. A poor lone woman like me, does not know what to do with so many creatures, and I should be glad to trade, if we can fix it"

So they adjourned to the meadow—Farmer Smith looked at Roan—then at then widow—then at the Downing cow—then at the widow again—and so on over the whole forty. The same call was made every day for a week, but Farmer Smith could not decide which cow he wanted. At length, on Saturday, when widow Jones was in a hurry to get through her baking for Sunday, and had ever so much to do in the house, as all farmers' wives and widows have on Saturday, she was a little impatient. Farmer Smith was as irresolute as ever.

"That Downing cow is a pretty fair creature—but"—he stopped and glanced at the widow's face, and then walked round her—not the widow, but the cow.

"That ere short horned Durham is not a bad looking beast, but I don't know"—another look at the widow.

"The Darling cow I knew before the late Dr. Jones bought her." Here he sighed at the allusion to the late Mr. Jones. She sighed and they both looked at each other. It was a highly interesting moment.

"Old Roan is a faithful old milch, and so is Brindle—but I have known better." A long stare succeeded this speech—the pause was getting awkward, and at last Mrs. Jones broke out:

"Law! Mr. Smith, if I'm the cow you want, do say so!"

The intentions of Widower Smith and the Widow Jones were duly published next day, as is the law and custom in Massachusetts, and as soon as they were "out published," they were married.—New York Dispatch.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The bed of the Seine near Paris contains a large rock, called the Speaking Stone, by the people. Only in the times of the greatest drouth this rock becomes visible, and it has appeared above the surface now again for the first time since the terrible year 1755, the year in which the earthquake of Lisbon took place, and the seven years' war began. It is called the speaking rock because the following words have been chiseled into it "Those who have seen me have wept, and those who will see me will weep."

The German troops around St. Cloud made the utmost efforts to put out the fire in that place after the French guns had ignited it. They saved a good many of the valuable objects of art from that historical chateau, also many historical relics. Among the latter is the table on which Napoleon III signed the declaration of war with Prussia. The Crown Prince has acquired this table, as well as the inkstand used on that occasion, and has sent them to Berlin, where they will match with the chair on which Napoleon III. sat down at the German headquarters after he had surrendered at Sedan.

A characteristic incident is reported of the recent visit of Uhrich, the gallant defender of Strasburg, to Tours. At the popular reception tendered the General, and after he had delivered a short speech in these words "We shall drown in Prussian blood the memory of our disasters. My sword, unfortunately for me, is riveted to its scabbard, but there are a thousand others, ready to flash in the defence of their country, and I feel that France will never perish for want of brave defenders," the Mayor of the city, unable to restrain himself, sprang forward and imprinted his moustached lips upon the bronzed cheeks of the General. Uhrich, it is said, turned away in disgust, not relishing the affection of the warm-hearted Mayor

Railroad Travel,

Connecting at the Junction in California with the Great Overland Railroad to the Eastern cities

Time through to San Francisco, 5 days

" " New York 12 "

Passengers allowed to lay over along the route

Those who travel by this route avoid the dangers of the sea and that dreaded and terrible feeling of seasickness The wild picturesque scenery, beautiful valleys and snow capped mountains, alone, doubly pay the tourist for a trip over this route

The route passes through the principal agricultural districts of Oregon, the valleys of the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River To the immigrant coming here in search of a home or investment, this route is strongly recommended.

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea, Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe [illegible] at his Dispensary [illegible] Kearny street, corner of Commercial San Francisco [illegible] patients [illegible] requiring his services [illegible]

[illegible]

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating these diseases, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential.

Address DR J. F GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco Post Office Box 1 957

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER Consultation FREE

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned.

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M February 16, 1870 The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U S Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government The party can leave the land if necessary, he can sell the land or mortgage it, he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect I R MOORES,

The Amazon.

This great river rises in the little Peruvian lake of Lauricocha, just below the limits of perpetual snow. For 500 miles it flows swiftly through a deep valley. Then turning sharply eastward, it runs 2,500 miles across the great equatorial plains. Two thousand miles above its mouth its width is a mile and a half, increasing to over ten miles at the head of the Delta where it divides, and, after running 400 miles, presents a front of 150 miles upon the ocean. For a great distance it is bordered by side channels or bayous, as they are called upon the Mississippi, named by the Indians igarapes, or canoe paths. From Santarem, the principal town above Para, one may paddle a thousand miles parallel to the river without once entering the stream. For twenty-five degrees of latitude every river that flows down the eastern slope of the Andes is an affluent of the Amazon. It is as though all the rivers from Mexico to Oregon united their waters in the Mississippi. A half score of these tributaries are larger—the Danube excepted—than any European river of Russia. The volume of its waters are greater even than the breadth of the river would indicate. At Nauta, 2,200 miles from its mouth, the depth is forty feet, increasing rapidly as it approaches the ocean. The largest ocean steamer could doubtless steam 2,200 miles up the Amazon.

The vegetation of the valley is exuberant. There is a bewildering diversity of grand and beautiful trees, a wild, unconquered race of vegetable giants draped and festooned by creeping plants. The moment you land upon the shore, you are confronted by a solid wall of vegetation, through which, if you wish to proceed, you must hew your way with axe or macheta. Palms, of which thirty varieties are noted, constitute the majority of trees. Then there are "cow trees," a hundred and [illegible] feet high, yielding a milk of the consistency of cream, used for tea, coffee, and custards. The "caucho," or rubber tree, though a different species from that of the East Indies, produces a gum which constitutes most of the rubber of commerce. Agassiz puts this tree forty or eighty feet high, in the same class with the milk-weed of our American pastures. Of [illegible] wood there is no end. Foremost among these is the moira-pinima or tortoise shell wood, the most beautiful in grain and color in the world. Enough of this is wasted every year to veneer all the dwellings of the civilized world. For many years to come the exports of the Amazon Valley must be mainly the products of its forests. Yet, strangley enough, timber is now one of the chief articles of import at Para. A city of 35,000 inhabitants lying on the verge of a great forest, buys pine boards from far away Maine! This folly will in time come to an end. Contrary to all that we might expect, the climate of the Amazon valley is temperate rather than tropical. It is more equal than in any other region of the world.

WIDOW JONES' COW.—Widower Smith's wagon stopped one morning before Widow [illegible], and gave the usual signal that he wanted somebody in the house, by dropping his lines on his knees. Out tripped the widow as lively as a cricket, with a tremendous black ribbon on her snow white cap. Good morning was soon said on both sides, and the widow waited for what was further to be said.

"Well Ma'am Jones; perhaps you don't want to sell one of your cows, no how, nothin' noway, do you?"

"Well, [illegible], Mister Smith, you couldn't [illegible] spoken my mind better. A poor lone woman like me, does not know what to do with so many creatures, and I should be glad to trade if we can fix it."

So they adjourned to the meadow—Farmer Smith looked at Roan—then at the widow—then at the Downing cow—then at the widow again and so on over the whole forty. The same call was made every day for a week, but Farmer Smith could not decide which cow he wanted. At length, on Saturday, when widow Jones was in a hurry to get through her baking for Sunday, and had ever so much to do in the house, as all farmers' wives and widows have on Saturday, she was a little impatient. Farmer Smith was as irresolute as ever.

"That Downing cow is a pretty fair creature, but"—he stopped and glanced at the widow's face, and then walked round her—not the widow, but the cow.

"That ere short horned Durham is not a bad looking beast, but I don't know"—another look at the widow.

"The Darling cow I [illegible] before the late Mr Jones bought her." Here he sighed at the allusion to the late Mr. Jones. She sighed and they both looked at each other. It was a highly interesting moment.

Old Roan is a faithful old milch, and so is Brindle—but I have known better." A long stare succeeded this speech—the pause was getting awkward, and at last Mrs. Jones broke out:

"Law! Mr. Smith, if I'm the cow you want, do say so!"

The intentions of Widower Smith and the Widow Jones were duly published next day, as is the law and custom in Massachusetts, and as soon as they were "out published" they were married.—New York Dispatch.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The bed of the Seine near Paris contains a large rock, called the Speaking Stone, by the people. Only in the times of the greatest drouth this rock becomes visible, and it has appeared above the surface now again for the first time since the terrible year 1755, the year in which the earthquake of Lisbon took place, and the seven years' war began. It is called the speaking rock because the following words have been chiseled into it: "Those who have seen me have wept, and those who will see me will weep."

The German troops around St. Cloud made the utmost efforts to put out the fire in that place after the French guns had ignited it. They saved a good many of the valuable objects of art from that historical chateau, also many historical relics. Among the latter is the table on which Napoleon III. signed the declaration of war with Prussia. The Crown Prince has acquired this table, as well as the inkstand used on that occasion, and has sent them to Berlin, where they will match with the chair on which Napoleon III. sat down at the German headquarters after he had surrendered at Sedan.

A characteristic incident is reported of the recent visit of Uhrich, the gallant defender of Strasburg, to Tours. At the popular reception tendered the General, and after he had delivered a short speech in these words: "We shall drown in Prussian blood the memory of our disasters. My sword, unfortunately for me, is riveted to its scabbard, but there are a thousand others, ready to flash in the defence of their country, and I feel that France will never perish for want of brave defenders," the Mayor of the city, unable to restrain himself, sprang forward and imprinted his moustached lips upon the bronzed cheeks of the General. Uhrich, it is said, turned away in disgust, not relishing the affection of the warm-hearted Mayor.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE. NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are the ones who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hot flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

Married Men.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, and should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is reliable, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 1,957

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER

LAND DEPARTMENT OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M February 16, 1870 The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it, he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect.
